

Executive Registry
7-5270

1 October 1955

Dear

Hon. Robert Cutler
 Old Colony Trust Company
 1 Federal Street
 Boston, Massachusetts

Dear Bobby:

Ham Armstrong, who is the editor of Foreign Affairs, asked me the other day whether I thought you would consider writing an article for Foreign Affairs on the National Security Council. As Ham was sailing immediately for Europe, I volunteered to put the question to you with the idea that you might be willing to think it over, and if you find it of any interest, we could talk with Ham when he returns some six weeks from now.

Naturally Ham appreciates that you would disclose no secrets, and he would not want them. He felt, and I think there is something in his idea, that the public at large possibly did not understand the work and functioning of the Council and its place in our government. An authoritative article by you in Foreign Affairs would help to meet this need. Certainly if the article should be done, you would be the one to do it and you can judge better than I whether or not it is wise to do it.

In a sense I have a slightly selfish interest in seeing the article done. We get many inquiries from foreign governments about the Security Council, particularly in connection with the problems they face as to where in government to place the control of their intelligence and related activities. There is generally a good deal of competition for control of intelligence, both domestic and foreign, between the foreign offices, defense establishments, interior ministries and the chiefs of government. It always seemed to me we had hit upon a very happy solution for this problem, and I have had occasion, in one or two instances, informally to suggest to certain

ORIGINAL COPY
 INDEXED
 SERIALIZED
 FILED

235919
 20/11
 Serial
 3d (3)

(28)

CONFIDENTIAL

ER via Feeding

- 2 -

foreign services, who have consulted me, the utility of a National Security Council type of setup for intelligence. It has generally had a very friendly reception. It occurred to me that a factual article about the Security Council would be very useful in many respects. I have not discussed this with Dillon Anderson, or anyone at the White House, as I did not know whether you agreed with me or would be willing to consider it, but I am sending Dillon a copy of this letter.

You are greatly missed. I wish you would get back here more often even if only for a day or so.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles

AWD:hea

Rewritten by AWD:meo

Distribution:

1 cc to Hon. Dillon Anderson (went out with ER 7-5080)

1 cc to DCI

1 cc to ER via Reading

P.S. Since dictating this letter, I talked with Dillon who I believe has also talked with you - but I thought I would send the letter anyway.
Awd.

7-5-201
7-5-201

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

October 11, 1955

MEMORANDUM FOR THE HONORABLE ALLEN W. DULLES
DIRECTOR
CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

In a conversation with Robert Cutler this morning on the telephone, I learned that the arrangement whereby I would prepare an article on the National Security Council for publication in the January issue of the Atlantic Monthly has become so well crystalized that it would be difficult to change it. This plan, as I believe I told you, has the approval of the President, subject to Bobby's O.K. of the scope and coverage of the proposed article; and Ted Weeks, the Atlantic Editor, knows of this through Bobby and me.

Bobby and I agreed, however, to suggest to you that there is ample room in this general field for more than one article, and in this regard he makes the following points:

- a. He will not be able, anyway, for some months to find time to prepare such an article.
- b. He will give it some thought, in the meantime, and when he comes to look over my draft, we can either trim mine down to exclude areas which he might wish to develop perhaps more fully, or find that it does not in fact impinge at all upon the kind of treatment of the subject that he might have in mind.

Hence, I suggest that you go ahead and send Bobby your proposed letter of October 1, supplemented in any way you like in the light of the foregoing.

DILLON ANDERSON
Special Assistant to the President

Attached

gfe

ORIGINAL CL BY 20 59 79
 DECLASSIFIED 20 11
 EXPIRES 30/09/2011
 3d(3)

FOREIGN

AFFAIRS

AN AMERICAN QUARTERLY REVIEW

HAMILTON FISH ARMSTRONG
EDITOR

58 EAST SIXTY-EIGHTH STREET

NEW YORK 21, N. Y.

CABLE ADDRESS: FORAFFAIRS, NEW YORK

September 23, 1955

The Honorable Allen W. Dulles
Box 1513, Main Post Office
Washington, D. C.

Dear Allen:

Just a memo to remind you to speak to Cutler when the right moment offers. I think a full and frank discussion could be very useful.

We're off today. See you early in November. Best from both to both.

As ever,

Ham

30
DOCUMENT NO. 30
NO CHARGE IN CLASS.
 DECLASSIFIED
CLASS. EXAMINED NOV 20 1983
REVIEWED NOV 20 1983
ROUTED NOV 20 1983
DATE: 9/16/81 BY: 2024

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

27 September 1955

Hon. Robert Cutler
Old Colony Trust Company
1 Federal Street
Boston, Massachusetts

Dear Bobby:

Ham Armstrong, who is the editor of FOREIGN AFFAIRS, asked me the other day whether he thought you would consider writing an article for FOREIGN AFFAIRS on the National Security Council. As Ham was sailing immediately for Europe, I volunteered to put the question to you with the idea that you might be willing to think it over, and if you find it of any interest, we could talk with Ham when he returns some six weeks from now.

Naturally Ham appreciates that you ~~would~~ disclose no secrets, and he would not want them. He felt, and I think there is something in it, that the public at large possibly did not have a good idea of the work and functioning of the Council and its place in our government, and an authoritative article by you in FOREIGN AFFAIRS would help to meet this need. Certainly if the article should be done, you would be the one to do it and you ~~can~~ judge better than I whether or not it is wise and proper to do it.

In a sense, I have a slightly selfish interest in seeing the article done, as we get inquiries from many foreign governments about the Security Council, particularly in regard to the problems which many of them face as to where in government to place the control of their intelligence and related works as there is generally a good deal of competition for control of intelligence, both domestic and foreign, by the foreign offices, defense establishments and interior ministries.

ORIGINAL COPY

DIRECTOR'S COPY

EX-REF ID: A61111

REASON

23 59 79

Carry at will

Same

Another copy of Gov't

-2-

I'm busy but I'll be there

It always seemed to me we had hit upon a very happy solution, and I have had occasion, on one or two instances, to informally suggest to certain foreign services, who have consulted me, the utility of a National Security Council type of set up for intelligence, and related work, and it has generally had a very friendly reception. It occurred to me that a factual article about the Security Council would be very useful in many respects. I have not discussed this with Dillon Anderson, or anyone at the White House, as I did not know whether you agreed with me or would be willing to consider it.

You are greatly missed. I wish you would get back here more often even if only for a day or so.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
Director

cc:

but I am sending Dillon a copy of this letter

cc: